FRENCH REPORTS CLAIM SHARP GERMAN REVERSE

Reports from Eastern War Zone Throw Little Light on Actual State of Conflict; Austrians Driven Back.

London, Nov. 4, (via London, 5:40 p. m.)—An official communication was given out at German army headquarters today as follows:

"Our attacks on Ypres, to the north of Arras, and to the east of Soissons, are progressing slowly but successfully."

"South of Verdun and in the Yves, French attacks have been repulsed."

"In the eastern arena of the war there have been no material developments."

London, Nov. 4, (1:43 p. m.)—The German naval raid from the stronghold of Kiel to within twelve miles of England's east coast, and the possibility of the recurrence of such performances any day or night, held the foreground in London's war news today. Its spectacular features created more discussion than that of the forced retirement of the tip of the German right wing in Belgium.

Four battleships and four cruisers is the latest estimate of the units which participated in the North Sea episode, but no accurate information on the subject is available. It is assumed, however, that ample preparations have been made by the British admiralty to meet any future raid.

Troops at Yarmouth with rifle and bayoneted cartridges were stationed along the roads leading from the shore to the town, ready for the remote contingency of any Germans setting foot on English soil.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—The brilliant victory of the German squadron over the British, off the coast of Chile places a new aspect on the naval situation in the Pacific.

For the present, at least, it definitely shifts command of southern waters to the Germans, and until there has been a readjustment of force, will make itself felt in the movement of all cargoes between the Pacific coast and Europe.

FRENCH MAKE USUAL REPORT OF GAINS AND LOSSES

Paris, Nov. 4, (12 p. m.)—The French war office today gave out an official announcement as follows:

"On our left wing to the north the situation shows no change as compared to yesterday. The enemy has drawn back on the right bank of the Yer. We have recaptured Louhierzy. The Germans occupy on the Petrograd, Nov. 4.—An official communication from the staff of the Russian army in the Caucasus, given out today says Russian troops have crossed the Turkish frontier, driving back the enemy's advance guards and taking a number of towns.

The text of the communication follows:

"Our troops have crossed the frontier of Turkey and having driven back the Turkish advance guards, they took possession, after engagements of the towns of Zivine, Karakilise, Passiniki, Akbuk, Esmatik, Kheroun, Myssan and Arzap.

The Turks forces retreated after having suffered losses and abandoned their dead."

Amsterdam, Nov. 4, (via London, 7:40 a. m.)—The Vossische Zeitung publishes a dispatch from Sofia, saying that Turkish battleship Sinop has sunk the Russian battleship Sinop.

Turkish warships are said to have sunk the Russian battleship Sinop. This is not confirmed.

A fleet of German warships is said to have gathered off the Aland Islands in the Baltic opposite the Gulf of Finland.

Between Dixmude and the Yer, the fighting has continued with alternate advances and withdrawals, but with the general result that the allies made perceptible progress.

"Between Yer and the region of Arras there has been commanding and minor engagements.

DEMOCRATS HERNANDEZ CLAIM 30 MAJORITY IN LOWER HOUSE

Sixty-Three of Eighty-Five Congressional Districts Unreported at Noon Must Be Democratic to Give Return Meager and Slow Coming in, Especially from Republican Counties, But G. O. Victory Sure.

BERNALILLO COUNTY REPUBLICAN BY 691 Grant County Alone of Democratic Counties Makes Good Showing; Legislature Remains Sure of Control.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Although 35 congressional districts were still unreported from noon today, Democrats in leadership here were confident that the administration would retain control of congress, although the majorities in the house might be less than its present strength of 141 as a result of the 20,000 votes which have been cast in the state this afternoon, except Colfax, that Mr. Hernandez has been elected over Mr. Ferguson by a majority of 2,500 votes, or more.

The republicans claim complete returns will give Hernandez a majority of 4,000 or better; this claim, however, probably is excessive.

The returns, especially from the republican counties, are very slow in coming in, and Bernalillo, Grant, Lincoln, Otero and Dona Ana are the only ones from which complete returns have come. Until all precincts are reported from the Democratic counties, it was estimated that the Democratic majority might possibly stand at 20. The Democratic majority in the senate was estimated at 10.

The voting results of the states outside of Nevada, California, Kansas and Colorado show no promise of reducing the Democratic majority of eight. Reports to the national Democratic committee were said to indicate the election of James D. Phelan of California to succeed Senator Ferguson, a Republican, and the reelection of Senators Newlands and Thompson of Nevada and Colorado. In Kansas a close contest for the seat of Senator Briarwood seemed to be between Representatives Marquiss, Progressive, and former Senator Curtis, Republican, leaving Representative Neely, the Democratic candidate, behind.

At noon, with the 35 congressional districts missing, the election of 185 Democrats, 182 Republicans and three Progressives was reported. The present complexion of the house is 235 Democrats, 127 Republicans, 12 Progressives and six vacancies.

The noon returns showed a gain of 27 Republicans. At that hour 22 districts in New York, six in Pennsylvania, 12 in Missouri, 10 in Minnesota, eight in California and others were unreported.

It takes 218 for a majority in the house. To fulfill the predictions of the Democratic leaders of a majority of thirty, it is necessary for 63 of the unreported districts to be Democratic. They are claimed by the leaders.

At noon, the 35 congressional districts missing, the election of 185 Democrats, 182 Republicans and three Progressives was reported. Albuquerque gave 418 majority for Ferguson and the rest of the ticket was close to that figure.

Bernalillo county gave 691 majority for Hernandez, with the unimportant precinct of Escobedo missing.

Albuquerque gave 418 majority for Ferguson and the rest of the ticket was close to that figure.
